

Cohort #12 2025-2027 REVISED

The Collaborative MBA will be extending greater flexibility to faculty to determine an appropriate mix of synchronous sessions and asynchronous work. We have listed below, for each course, the first and last sessions, which we expect will be synchronous. The intervening sessions will be determined by each professor and communicated to students at the beginning of the course. For planning purposes, students should schedule their availability for every weekly session, as some courses will remain fully synchronous.
