

MID-WEEK MOTIVATOR

What You Need to Know for this Week

April 4-10

OPPORTUNITIES

If you are staying in Harrisonburg for the summer and are in search of a summer job, we have the perfect opportunity for you! VMRC is currently looking to fill multiple open positions and has many opportunities available at this time. Their open positions include areas such as groundskeeping, dining services, nursing and much more. To see list of all open positions visit their website at: <https://www.vmrc.org/careers>

OPPORTUNITIES

Randolph College is currently looking for anyone who may have an interest in graduate training in coaching or other sport leadership roles. The Master of Arts in Coaching and Sport Leadership at Randolph College is a one-year, intensive program that can either be completed residually/in-person OR entirely online. For additional information or to apply, check out their website at: <https://macsl.randolphcollege.edu/>

NURSING VIRTUAL CAREER FAIR

Nurse Recruitment at Penn Medicine Lancaster General Health is hosting a virtual career fair for Senior BSN students and alumni. The event is scheduled from April 14th and 15th. For more information, reach out to Amanda DelRomero from Penn Medicine at Amanda.DelRomero@penntelcare.com

HELPFUL TIPS

Don't wait for opportunities, create them

It is important to continue to set goals for yourself, but more importantly, you need to take action to achieve these goals. Oftentimes you need to seek out and put in the work to find the right opportunities for you. Check out different resources and have conversations with people in your areas of interest to see what options are out there for you.

SCHEDULE AN APPOINTMENT

Have questions about finding a job or internship?
Need tips on how to revamp your resume ?
Reach out to us at emu.edu/careers/ to schedule an appointment.

