* “There are a few nuances to the data worth mentioning. First of all, people who marked race/ethnicity as unknown were excluded from percentage calculations. Secondly, international students were included in the OTW categories even though some internationals may be considered white (their IPEDS category is “nonresident alien” and doesn't specify race). Most of our internationals are OTW, but I thought that it was worth mentioning.” Jason Good, Ph.D., Director of Retention, Eastern Mennonite University, email communication, August 21, 2013.
