*You are unique
among college
graduates around this country because you have committed to do justice and to love
mercy and to walk
humbly with God,
and I just believe that
we've never needed
people to take seriously
that commitment more than we do today.*

FROM THE PRESIDENT

FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS

SUSAN SCHULTZ HUXMAN, PHD

Greetings friends of EMU,

We've all seen it: News headlines proclaim that "unprecedented disruptions" are the hallmarks of our time. Consider a pandemic that doesn't want to let go of us and has transformed work as we know it; a growing existential threat around ever more climate emergencies; rumors of (un)civil war from the Jan 6 storming of the capitol and its continued investigation; and Russia's invasion of Ukraine. Those are just a few of the crises threatening civil society.

A clever t-shirt about our circumstances says it best: "I miss precedented times." In the midst of these swirling challenges, our campus community (both internal and external stakeholders) continues to exhibit grace and courage in our witness as a faith-infused peace and justice university.

This report highlights many remarkable examples of this witness. Our key indicators of institutional health are strong as we "prepare students to serve and lead" in the spirit of Micah 6:8.

The campus response to our extraordinary times reminds me of the story of Esther.

Many of you have heard the expression "For such a time as this" – a question posed by Queen Esther's cousin Mordecai (Esther 4:14). Esther's story is dramatic and as high stakes as it gets.

Esther is an unlikely hero: She is an orphan selected as queen for her beauty who kept her Jewish heritage secret. Esther's crisis is dire: confronting the king with the secret plan of one of his captains to rid the kingdom of all Jews could mean losing her life, but not confronting the king could mean the destruction of her family and her people. Esther had to be extraordinarily brave. She risked her life for a greater purpose. Esther's story reminds us that we can be thrust without warning into making difficult decisions. Courageous actions sometimes mean forging a difficult path that can make all the difference.

The most memorable phrase from this story comes from Mordecai. "Perhaps you have come to royal dignity for just such a time as this," he says to Esther. This could be true for any one of us. Replace "royal dignity" with something else: Perhaps you have come to EMU for such a time as this? Perhaps you are equipped to assist EMU for such a time as this?

Though certainly we can agree that the stakes are not as high as those faced by Esther, the lesson is no less valuable. Crises can force us to dig deep into our reserves and ask: What special gifts do I carry for this moment? Do I have the resolve to risk what it may take to affect positive change?

*What
special gifts do I carry for this moment?
Do I have the resolve to risk what it may take
to affect positive change?*

I suggest that for EMU this is our moment, our time:

- A time to embrace the promise of a new school year;
- A time to pursue our fiercely student-centered strategic plan for 2023-28;
- A time to launch the bold second phase of our Forward Together Campaign;
- A time to attract tomorrow's student leaders whom we will well equip to engage our "unprecedented disruptions."

To that end, we covet your prayers, your counsel, and your generous support.

Can we continue to count on you? For such a time as this?

In gratitude,

A TIME TO...
*embrace the promise of a
new school year*

A TIME TO...
*pursue our fiercely student-
centered strategic plan*

A TIME TO...
*launch the bold second phase
of our Forward Together campaign*

A TIME TO... *attract tomorrow's student leaders whom we will well-equip to engage our
"unprecedented disruptions"*

In Enrollment Management, there’s been a whirlwind of change: We have prioritized the creation of new structures, leadership, spaces, and cultures to nurture our employees, our greatest asset, to their full potential. We onboarded new directors of undergraduate admissions and enrollment operations, and began successful searches for new directors of athletics, graduate admissions and marketing and communications. Our new workspaces, including the sleek new centralized Admissions space in University Commons, support efficiencies and show true investment in our staff’s potential to attract growing numbers of students who want to learn from our mission and values.

12-month enrollment captures the total number of students who take classes at EMU during a 12-month period. It is a more comprehensive picture of the university’s activities than the more traditional fall enrollment statistics.

“The community is so supportive, and the location is beautiful. EMU is a great place to learn and grow with people who care deeply about your well-being.”
– Megan Miller ’20

VERSE

EMU elevates its learning community to “do justice, love mercy and walk humbly with God” (Micah 6:8).

MISSION

EMU prepares students to serve and lead in a global context.

Our community of learning integrates Christian faith, academic rigor, artistic creation and reflective practice informed by the liberal arts, interdisciplinary engagement and cross-cultural encounter.

VALUES

EMU’s mission and vision are grounded in the enduring Biblical values of Christian discipleship, community, service and peace.

These values are embodied throughout the university in our distinctive commitment to peacebuilding, social justice, cross-cultural engagement and sustainability. Rooted in the Anabaptist tradition, we follow Jesus’ call to bear witness to truth, serve with compassion, and walk boldly in the way of nonviolence and peace.

VISION

We will open new pathways of access and achievement for all students who aspire to grow as unifying leaders equipped with intercultural competence, oriented toward peace and justice, and rooted in an active faith modeled on the life and teachings of Jesus.

IDENTITY

EMU is an educational institution of Mennonite Church USA. Founded in 1917 in Harrisonburg, Virginia, EMU serves students of diverse religious and cultural backgrounds and confers undergraduate, graduate and seminary degrees.
